NEGROES DEFEAT WYOMING TEAM

Salt Lake, Aug. 31.—In an inter-racial baseball game Tuesday afternoon at Walker's field a combination of red and black was victorious over the white race. The Occidental team, a full-blooded Indian, in the box, won from the Diamondville team of white players by a score of 4 to 3. The game was not as good as the score would indicate, the fielding errors of each team counterbalancing. By all odds the great feature of the game was a brilliant one-handed catch by Robinson, the negro second baseman. There were two men on bases when a low line drive was smashed toward Robinson. The negro ran forward and scooped up the ball just as it was about to touch the ground. The drive for the ball threw Robinson forward on his face and he fell prone on the diamond, but he held the ball tightly in the bare hand with which he caught it. When he regained his feet he ran to second and completed a double unassisted. This freak play undoubtedly saved the negroes from defeat, as it retired the side just when the Diamondville boys were threatening to rake in a tally of two.

"Indian" Smith pitched a good game for the negroes, allowing six hits. With the exception of the third inning, in which Diamondville pounded out its only three runs, he held the visitors to three scattered hits. Morgan pitched a strong game, but his support was poor.

SALT LAKE AND STATE NEWS
OPINION IS GIVEN IN RAILWAY CASE

Without passing upon the point of whether the act of congress, approved March 3, 1875, granting to railways rights-of-way through public lands, applies only to railroads constructed and operated after the act was passed, or to railroads constructed and in operation before the act was passed, the supreme court, in an opinion handed down Tuesday, reversed the judgment of the Third district court in favor of the defendants in the suit of the Rio Grande Western Railway company against the Stringhams to quiet title to a strip of ground 200 feet wide along the right-of-way of the Bingham branch of the present Denver & Rio Grande.

The Stringhams acquired possession of the ground in question by right of settlement back in the sixties. The Bingham Canyon & Camp Floyd Railway company, predecessor of the Rio Grande Western, in 1872 organized to build a line from Sandy to Lewiston, Tooele county, a distance of thirty-five miles, and in September of 1875 filed its incorporation articles with the secretary of the interior, but failed to finish the road beyond Bingham. The Rio Grande Western afterward took over the line with its appurtenances, but the Stringhams refused to give up possession of the part of the right-of-way they occupied and suit was necessary.

Lower Court Decision. The lower court held that the act of congress granting railways rights-of-way through public grounds did not apply to railways then in operation or partly in operation and entered judgment in favor of the Stringhams except as to a strip twelve and one-half feet wide on either side of the track, which the Stringhams held from Nicholas Trowack, who got title from the United States. The railway company appealed.

The supreme court says that the Stringhams lost title to the ground by failing to file their declaratory statement and making entry as pre-emptors within the time prescribed by law, and therefore acquired no prior right by settlement or occupancy. The grounds were railway grounds when the railway company incorporated, and the secretary of the interior, when he accepted the incorporation articles, determined the question under consideration. This operated as a conveyance of title to the proposed right-of-way to the railway company, the supreme court says, and the lower court is ordered to enter judgment accordingly.

The opinion is written by Chief Justice D. N. Straup, his associates concurring. The defendants were Thomas B. and Eli Stringham, man and wife, and nine other Stringhams.

DISEASE TAKES OFF DUCKS BY HUNDREDS
Strange Malady Makes Appearance Among Flocks Along Utah Lake.

Provo, Aug. 30.—Former County Fish and Game Warden Josh Jones has spent much time within the last few weeks in examining the wild duck situation, and he is authorized by the statement that there are more ducks in this vicinity than there have been at a corresponding time for twenty years. Mr. Jones also says that there is some kind of disease—in his opinion it is duck cholera—which is killing the ducks by the hundreds. He says that the heavy rain and the fact that there is starvation "is mere nonsense," that there is an abundance of food for wild fowl in and about the streams and lakes. That the ducks are dying there is not the least doubt, but Mr. Jones is positive in the statement that it is disease and not drought that is causing the mortality.

Mr. Jones has caught and examined ducks in the different stages of the disease and he says the blood supply is not diminished to any marked extent, and from all appearances if the ducks starve it is because they become so weak from the ravages of disease that they are unable to fly, or even walk on the shores of the lake. In some instances, Mr. Jones says, he has watched ducks slowly paddle to the shore, but they had not sufficient strength to help themselves to the food, which is abundant at the shore.

the water's edges and then they struggle to the land and die.

Hundreds and thousands of dead ducks are to be seen on the shores of the lake and among the sloughs where they congregate. Mr. Jones does not know of any cure for the disease, but he thinks that the fish and game officers should investigate, and if there is any remedy it should be applied. Mr. Jones also says that persons should be warned against picking up the ducks and putting them to use, because there may be danger of a contagion.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Since we started in business here two years ago we have purchased about 9,000 cream cans, costing us approximately $19,000.00. A great many of these cans have lost track of the principal reason being the careless manner in which the Express Companies are returning empty cans. We now ask the friendly help and assistance of the public in securing possession of our property.

We estimate that about 4,000 cans have gotten away from us and are used for other purposes. We have taken steps, however, to secure our cans and have put agents in the field that will visit every farm house, every restaurant, store, creamery, dairy, railroad yard and station in the state and secure for us these cans.

Our cans are furnished for the shipping of milk and cream, to be used on our cream routes and for no other purpose. If our cans are used for any other purpose it is against our will and we expect to take steps to protect our property.

We will appreciate the friendly help and assistance of the public at large and will ask you to kindly deliver to our haulers, agents, or those that are shipping us cream, such cans not now in our service.

We herewith serve notice on railroads, express companies, competing creameries and the public, that if they use our cans for any other purpose than that of shipping and gathering milk and cream for us, they do so at their own peril. The general identification of our cans is the blue color on the shoulder and neck.

In addition to these we own all cans stamped "Faust," with or without a number. Our title to these cans is secured through the bankruptcy court. We own all cans belonging to the Elgin Dairy Company, painted red, or traces of red or without paint. We own all cans belonging formerly to the Crescent Cream company. Some of these cans are stamped "Crescent." Others are painted yellow, traces of yellow or without paint.

Respectfully,
JENSEN CREAMERY COMPANY.

APPLE CROP IS LARGE THIS YEAR

Utah applies this year than ever before.

S.S.S. CURES OLD BLOOD DISEASES

Contagious Blood Poison is responsible for a great many old blood troubles; for its evil influences are often felt through many generations. Parents transmit the seeds of the disease to their children, and scrofulous sores, skin eruptions, catarrhal troubles, Rheumatism, ulcerating glands, and other stubborn diseases result from this most insidious of all poisons. There is no such thing as killing the germs of this mighty poison. Any medicine powerful enough to do this would destroy the delicate lining of the stomach and bowels, and permanently wreck the entire health. The only way to cure these old blood diseases is to REMOVE the cause from the circulation, and that is just what S. S. S. does. It goes into the blood and drives out every taint and poison and makes this vital fluid pure, fresh and nourishing. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks; it does not contain the least particle of mineral in any form, and is absolutely safe for persons of any age. S. S. S. cures blood diseases and disorders of every character, whether inherited or acquired. Book on the Blood and any medical advice free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

GEM STATE IS PRAISED

BY HOWARD R. DRIGGS

Professor Howard R. Driggs, who recently spent three weeks in company with Dr. G. W. Middleton, in northeastern Idaho, has returned with a much broader idea of that part of the Gem state. He spoke enthusiastically of the development that has taken place there within twelve years, especially along the line of dry farming. All the valley of the Teton, he says, is now one gigantic grain field, which is averaging this year from thirty to thirty-five bushels of wheat to the acre, without irrigation.

Dr. Driggs seems to think that the possibilities for dairy farming in the Teton basin are unlimited, the climate and conditions corresponding to those of Washoe county in Utah. A great deal of Timothy is raised in the valley, growing abundantly at Jackson's Hole divide, where the altitude is 8420 feet. Sheep raising is now the principal industry and fine stock is being introduced. In addition to the advantages set forth, it is an ideal place to hunt and fish, the climate being ideal.
